

DEATH IN SERVICE: GP LOCUMS

Guidance for Sheffield GPs

The LMC has been made aware of a GP locum's family not qualifying for death in service benefits and the potential financial hardship that might result from this. As such, the LMC would urge all GPs, particularly GP locums, to ensure they are aware of the rules around this aspect of the NHS pension scheme.

In summary, if a GP works exclusively as a GP locum, they will only be covered for death in service benefits if they die whilst contributing to the scheme.

If, for example, the GP is scheduled to locum for a practice for 4 weeks and was to die on a Sunday during those 4 weeks, their spouse or nominated person or estate would receive payment of twice their average dynamised earnings.

If, for example, the GP is scheduled to locum for a practice for 5 days Monday to Friday for 1 week and was to die on the Friday evening, after the scheduled work had ended, no death in service payment would be payable. Where death in service is not payable, the NHS pension scheme provides another type of cover.

NHS Business Services Authority has produced a pensions factsheet for GP locums, which can be downloaded at:

<https://www.nhsbsa.nhs.uk/sites/default/files/2017-05/GP%20locum%20factsheet-20170516-%28V8%29.pdf>

In addition, the British Medical Association (BMA) FAQs can be accessed as follows:

Death in Service – pension FAQs:

<http://bma.org.uk/practical-support-at-work/pensions/faq-death-in-service>

Locum GPs – Common Pension Queries:

<http://bma.org.uk/practical-support-at-work/pensions/faq-locum-gps>